Sponsored by Baltimore Aircoil Company
Tuesday, March 27, 10:15 a.m. – 11:45 a.m.

Productivity is often measured by the speed at which we tackle our to-do lists. Real productivity, however, comes from thinking differently—managing how we identify goals, construct teams, direct our focus and make decisions.

In this session, Charles Duhigg looks at what separates the merely busy from the genuinely productive by exploring eight critical concepts. With case studies from a U.S. Marine Corps boot camp, the making of Disney's Frozen, and how Google sought to build the perfect team, he explains how people and companies become smarter, faster and better.

Charles Duhigg is the bestselling author of The Power of Habit: Why We Do What We Do in Life and Business, which explores the science of habit formation, and Smarter Faster Better: The Secrets of Being Productive in Life and Business. The Pulitzer prize-winning investigative reporter writes for The New York Times Magazine and other publications. His work has also been recognized with the George Polk Award, the Gerald Loeb Award, the National Journalism Award and other honors.

Enjoy lunch as you learn about the issues affecting plumbing contractors. Whether you want to optimize operations, enhance employee training or expand into service markets, you're sure to come away with information you can use. Each presentation will be followed by a roundtable discussion that lets you learn from your peers. The conversations will focus on:

- Fabrication—how it can be developed on a small scale or fully integrated with BIM and total stations for optimum production.
- Supplemental Instruction—supplementing your workforce with training on the latest products, corporate ideology and skills reinforcement.
- Service Markets—issues concerning plumbing service and how niche markets such as sewer jetting, pumper trucks, video inspection, site utility work and emergency service can be profitable.

Members of the Plumbing Contractors of America will lead the discussions about these important issues.

MCAA's Final Four

Monday, March 26, 1:30 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.
Grand Oaks Ballroom

Come cheer on your alma mater or a favorite team during the final four round of the Student Chapter Competition.

Teams from Colorado State University, Fairleigh-Dickinson University, the University of Washington and the Wentworth Institute of Technology will present their proposals for the renovation of the Fogo De Chao Brazilian Steakhouse in New York City. The project requires teams to coordinate and assist in removing the existing equipment, install new equipment using variable refrigerant flow (VRF) technology, arrange for and coordinate the subcontracted work, manage the project within the space constraints of the restaurant and arrange for city permits and licenses. And, the restaurant will remain open during this renovation.

Learn how these future industry leaders applied their management and coordination skills to plan, design and develop a logistically complex project. You may come away with a new idea about how to approach a tough project challenge. Plus, this is a great place to preview some of the talent you can meet at Tuesday's Student Chapter Exhibit!

Make sure you add this session to your schedule on your MCAA18 App!

FINALS	1:00 p.m. – 1:30 p.m.

Help your PAC help you by visiting the golf simulator. Your swing will support MCAA's advocacy efforts in Washington and could—if you're good or lucky—add $5,000 or even $20,000 to your wallet!

Each day, a new par-3 hole will be featured on our simulator. The person closest to the pin at the end of the day wins a $500 VISA gift card. They also advance to the finals on Wednesday afternoon, where they'll swing for a hole-in-one and the $20,000 Grand Prize!

And just to make things interesting, anyone who makes a hole-in-one during the daily preliminary rounds will win $5,000.

So, stop by each day! Three swings are only $20.

The mission of your association's PAC is simple but vital—to gain MCAA members and our industry a fair hearing in federal public policy decisions. Our strategy is to continue to combine sound and vigorous public policy representation and advocacy with the increasing use of appropriate political activity.
